- ¹The heavens declare the glory of God;
the skies proclaim the work of his hands.
- ²Day after day they pour forth speech;
night after night they display knowledge.
- ³There is no speech or language
where their voice is not heard.
- ⁴Their voice goes out into all the earth,
their words to the ends of the world.

PROCLAIM Liberty!

“Ye shall hallow the fiftieth year, and proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof.”

—Leviticus 25:10

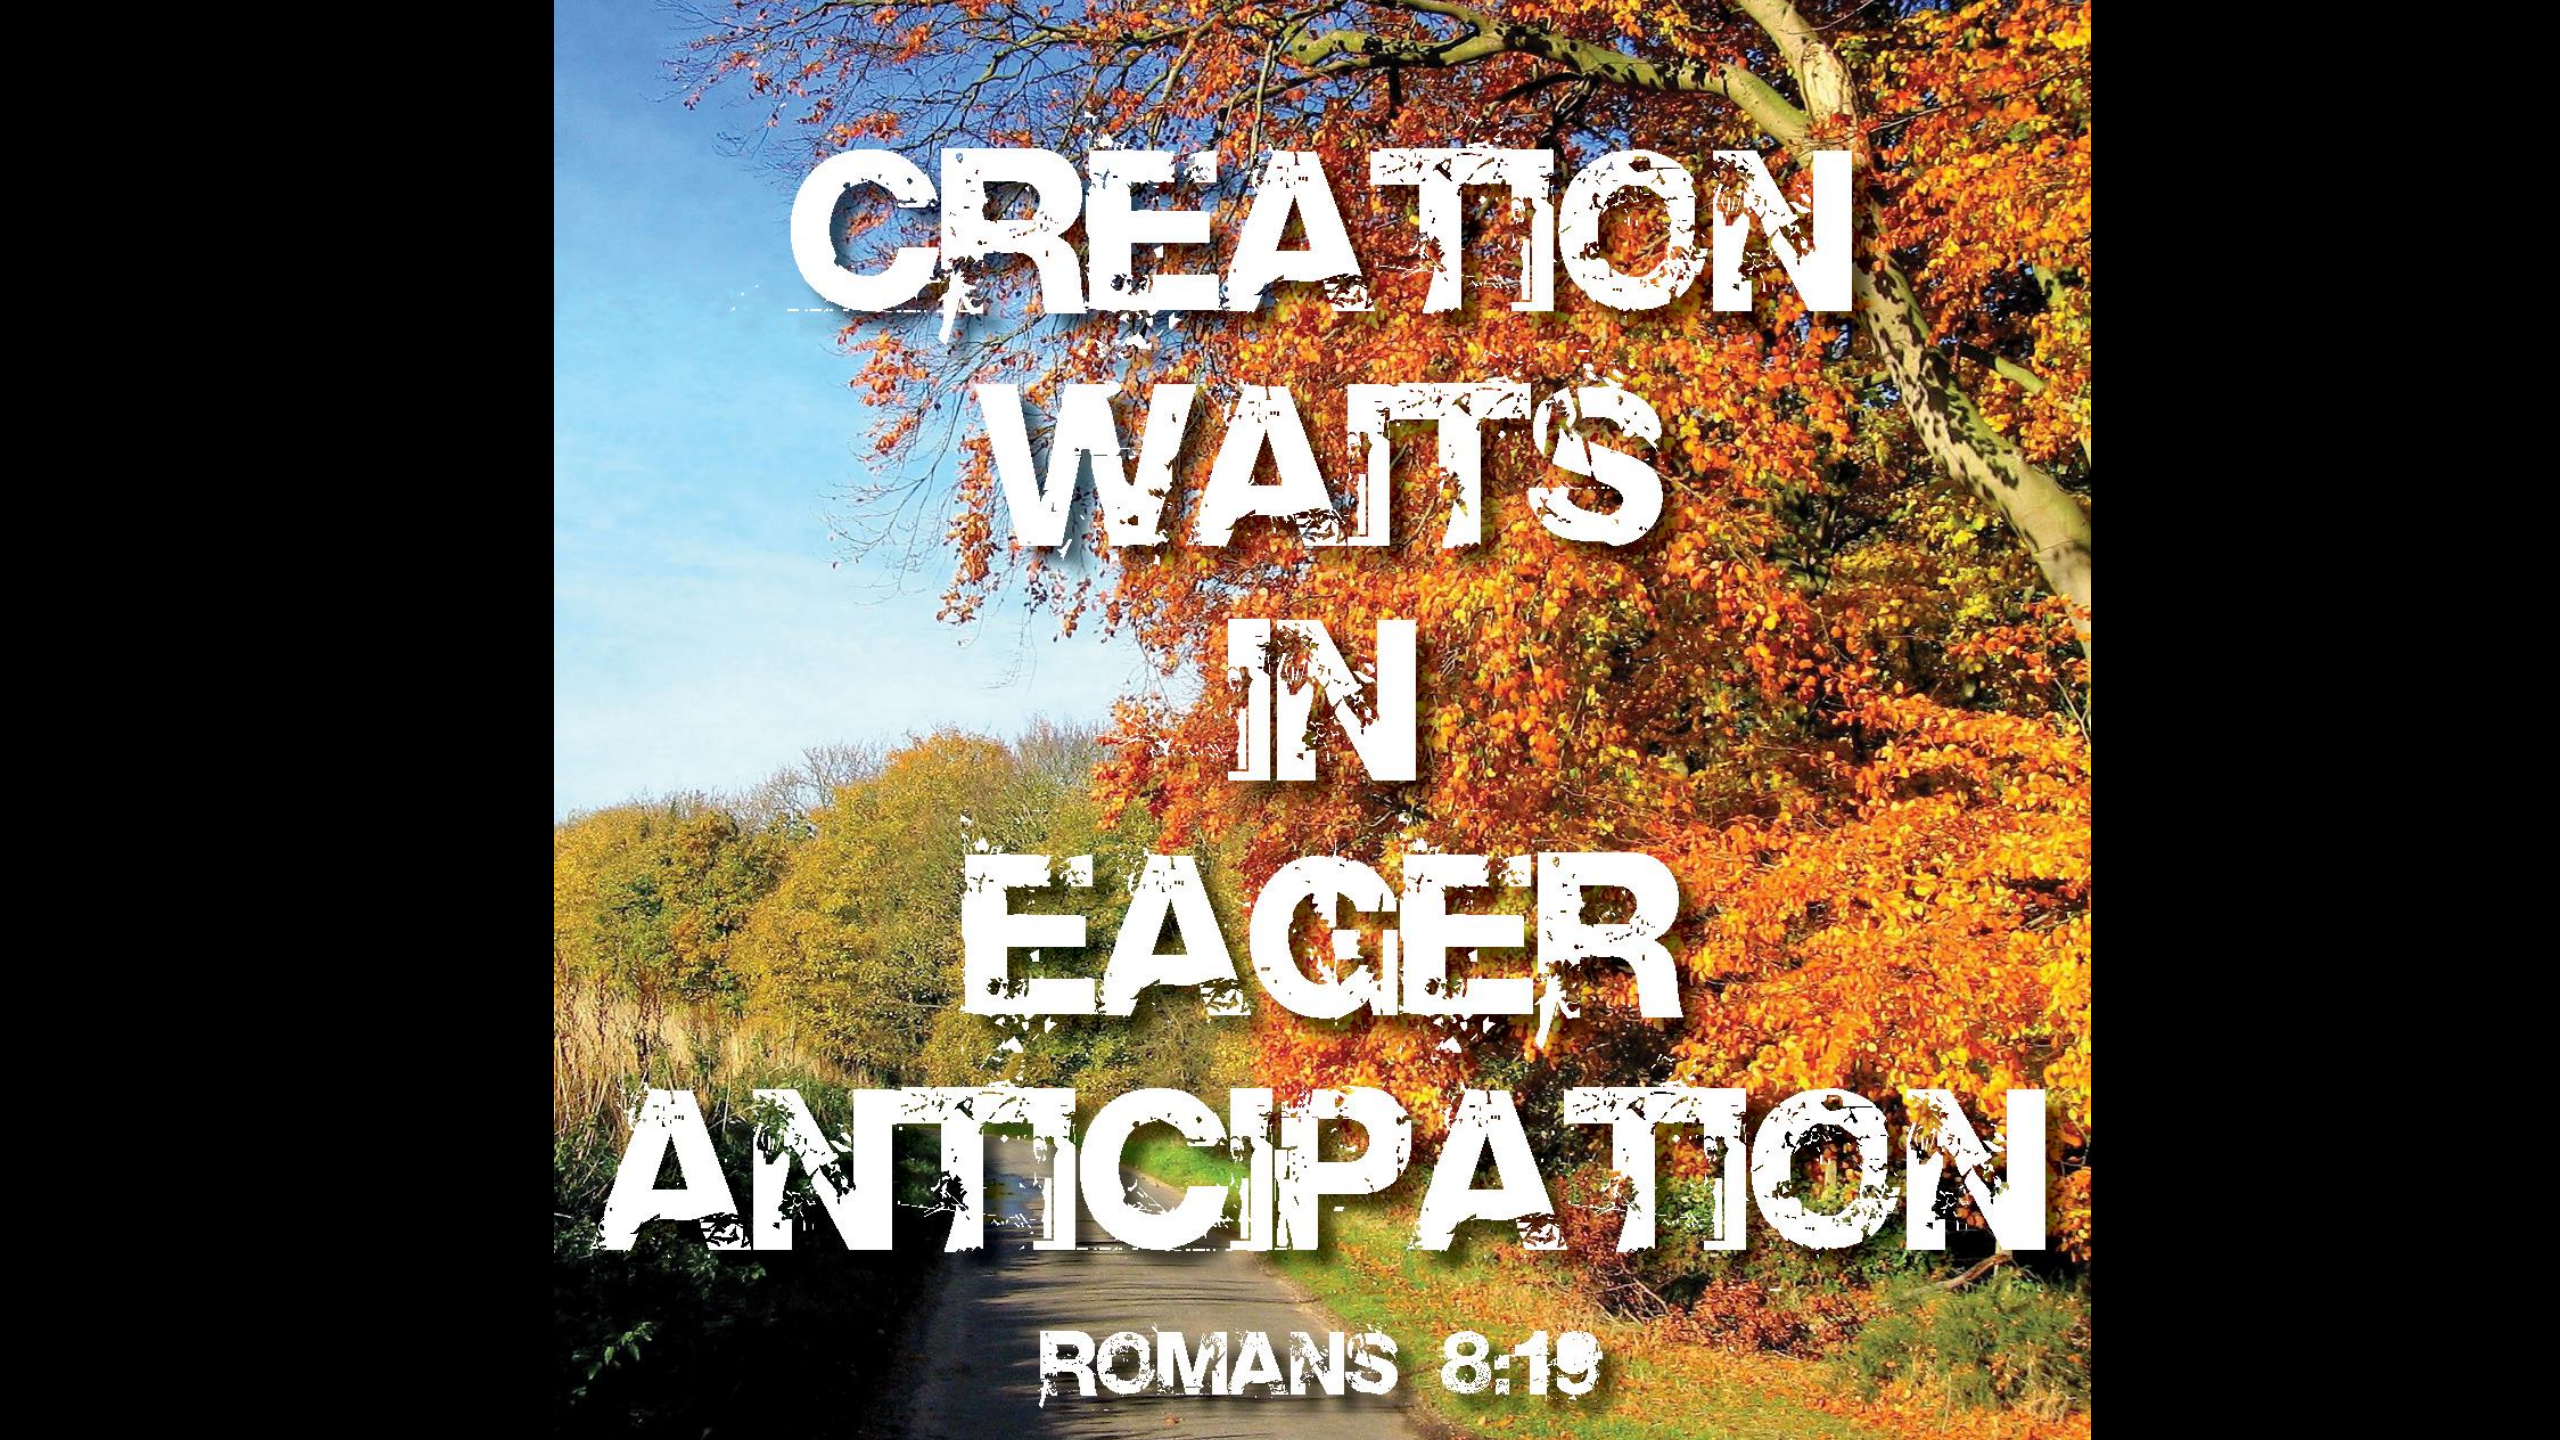

The earth lies defiled under its inhabitants; for they have transgressed the laws, violated the statutes, broken the everlasting covenant. Therefore a curse devours the earth, and its inhabitants suffer for their guilt; therefore the inhabitants of the earth are scorched, and few men are left.

In Him all things hold together

A serene landscape photograph of a calm lake. In the foreground, there are large, dark, wet rocks. The water is still, reflecting the sky and the surrounding mountains. On the left, a forest of evergreen trees lines the shore. In the distance, a small boat is visible on the water. The sky is a clear, light blue with a few wispy clouds. The overall mood is peaceful and majestic.

How to Talk About Climate Change With a Denier

Step 1: Don't talk about polar bears. Connect the threat of climate change to people's lives.

NOPE
